Dear Parents/Carers,

Re: Rainbow Theatre Workshop

As part of our 'It's All Greek to Me' topic, which will start after Easter, Year 3 will be taking part in an Ancient Greek Drama Workshop run by Rainbow Theatre. This is an amazing group of actors who will bring alive the classic Greek myths and help our children to understand the context of these inspirational stories. All children will be participating in the practical session.

This will take place on the morning of Friday 8th May during school hours, and we would strongly encourage children to come to school dressed as a citizen of Ancient Greece for this day if they can, although it is not compulsory. However, an oversized and unwanted white pillowcase with holes cut out would make a great toga. This could be paired with a simple belt and sash (scarf). Another option is to wrap a single white bed sheet over a t-shirt and shorts to make a wraparound toga.

We would appreciate if you could please pay the £4.80 voluntary contribution via Arbor by Thursday 24th April at the very latest. Please note that because our school budget is tight, if we do not get enough contributions to cover the cost of the workshop, we will have no choice but to cancel it. If you need help with the cost, please let your child's class teacher know.

Yours sincerely,

Year 3 Team
